

Solas News

Website. Solas Centre for Public Christianity can now be found on the web at www.solas-cpc.co.uk. Keep up-to-date with all Solas training events and David Robertson's new vodcast entitled "Fleabytes." Fleabytes is a weekly short video clip that will challenge the atheistic / agnostic views of society and encourage Christians to think through reasons for faith in God. We hope that the website, vodcasts and training events would be used for God's glory in the evangelism of unbelievers and discipleship of his people.

Introduction to Apologetic Evangelism. A morning of training (9:30 – 1) just around the corner, 18 September! David will lead seminars looking at "Meaningless, meaningless – the importance of understanding world views today," "I ken – Understanding Scotland today" and "Questions and Answers – how to answer people's questions with Jesus's answer." Admission is free but please RSVP by emailing Tim at office@solas-cpc.org or call (01382) 525 021.

Out of the Silent Church Conference. Book your tickets soon as seats are going fast.

First Board Meeting. Solas' board officially met for the first time to conduct business and strategically plan for the future. It was an exciting time to review how God seems to be growing this ministry... we've attained charitable status, launched a website and Fleabytes, have the prospect of several funding opportunities, and many users of our resources have been challenged in their faith. We hope for God's hand to continually be upon us.

Solas Conferences:

- 18 September – Introduction to Apologetic Evangelism
- 20 November – Out of the Silent Church Conference

Prayer Points:

- That Fleabytes would effectively communicate the truth of God in love where Christians have little voice
- That those attending the upcoming training events would experience conviction and growth in the faith
- For the development of the 2011 Training Schedule, that wisdom would guide our efforts to build a program that is true to scripture and relevant to culture.
